Colleges have informed us that admission is a contract based on your academic history, extracurriculars, testing record, and class schedule, and emphasize that any change can affect your admission status, even if you’ve already been admitted. In order for a schedule change to be considered, you must confirm one of the following:

☐ I have contacted the admissions offices of the colleges to which I have applied, and have received confirmation that this change will not affect admission status.
☐ I have not yet applied for college.
